Lagoonacy

A celebration of the insanely fascinating and beautiful Mosquito Lagoon, with a day of fun, food and festivities through Art and Marine Discovery.

Saturday, April 12, 2014
10:00 A.M. - 4:00 P.M.

Artists' Workshop Volunteers needed for the following activities:

Art Market Volunteers
Art Tents
Plein Air Painting Demos
Various Children Art Activities
AWI Information Booth

"Lagoonacy" Activities Joe Anglin

The Marine Discovery Center and the Artists' Workshop invite you once again to Lagoonacy...where Arts and Sciences meet! This year, the event will be held on Saturday, April 12th, from 10:00 A.M. - 4:00 P.M. at the Barracuda Blvd. facilities. It's a wonderful opportunity to showcase the Artists' Workshop studios, as well as promote our activities to the community.

We need a host of volunteers to make this a success! Our activities for this event include an Art Market, Art Demonstrations, Plein Air Painting, and various Children's Art Activities. We also need donations of art books, materials, and art supplies for the Art Market. (This is your chance to donate new or used art supplies/materials you no longer need - that AWI can sell. It's also a great chance to pick up a bargain on art supplies you might need/want. Due to storage/space limitations, please do not bring your donations for the Art Market to the Studios until Thursday/Friday, April 10-11.) More information and a volunteer sign-up sheet will be passed around at the April 2 Members' Meeting. If you have questions or wish to help out, contact Joe Anglin at 386-409-9814 or email: jangling43@gmail.com.

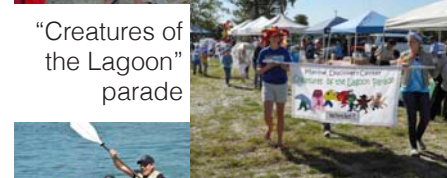

Highlights from last year's Lagoonacy include the Art Market

"Plein Air" painters in action

Children's "Big Art" paintings

"Creatures of the Lagoon" parade

Classes Update

Mary Gerlach and Nance Sucharski

Thank you again to all of our artists/teachers, monitors and students for your cooperation with the changes that had to be made to accommodate this year's Members' Show. All classes will resume normal studio spaces now that the Members' Show is over, and most classes are in full swing; people should check the "wonderful" classes brochure, contact teachers and sign up on clipboards at the studios.

MIXED MEDIA CLASS will resume on Tuesday April 22nd. "Mixing Mediums" - The students who have taken the class before may continue to work on building their skills, working with various mediums to develop strong compositions. The newer students will be learning some basic techniques. There will be a couple of direct lessons on planning and executing a strong composition. "Putting it Together" - You will learn the art of interlocking and overlapping shapes, so things fit together, and learn what mediums work well together.

Class will run April 22nd, 29th, May 6th, 13th, 20th, 27th. It is $75.00 for the 6 weeks or $15.00 a session. I must know by March 30th if you are planning on taking the class. I will be out of the country until April 18th, and need to know ahead of time how to plan. A class minimum of 6 students is necessary to run a class. Please get back to me if you are interested. If you have any questions, please e-mail carolynaland@gmail.com, or call 386 290-5128. If you need a supply list please contact me and I will forward one to you.

Upcoming Workshops

Liz Clayton

There is still room in Janet Roger's watercolor workshop on March 25, 26, and 27, as well as a need for a host/hostess on March 27th. Openings are also available in Lyn Asselta's pastel workshop April 4, 5, and 6, as well as a need for hosts/hostesses all three days. (Remember: Hosts attend the workshop that day at no charge!) If you are interested, contact Liz Clayton, 386-427-3996, or email: gramclayton@gmail.com.

MARK YOUR CALENDARS: Lyn Asselta will give a free pastel demonstration on Sunday, March 23 at 2:00 P.M. at the Artists' Workshop studios in preparation for her upcoming workshop.

Lyn Asselta: April 4, 5, 6 "Expressive Landscapes in Pastel"

This pastel workshop will concentrate on using emotion, intuition and color to help you create more interesting and expressive landscapes. We'll explore ideas with shape, design, stroke work, underpainting and format. This will be a fun 3 days of exploration, so be prepared to play! (Open to all levels, but students must have an understanding of how to use their pastels on sanded papers.)

From the Gallery

Constanz Elder, Sue Stoddart & Michael Ennis

APRIL EXHIBIT: "Rainbow's Gold" (Theme): Any subject. Yellow (gold) as an important focus of your artwork or yellow used as a wider portion of the work.

If you are familiar with the analogous color wheel, you will see that the color yellow is bordered by yellow-orange to one side and yellow-green on the other. Your yellow(s) could move in these directions, if desired. (There is an analogous color wheel posted on the bulletin board at the Studios, if you care to seek color possibilities and complements.) Entry date is Friday, March 28th, 9 – 11 A.M. at the Gallery.

To enter prior to the exhibit or for any questions, contact Constanz Elder, 386-426-2079, constanzelder@gmail.com, or Sue Stoddart, 386-423-1468, susanstoddart@earthlink.net.

Sue Stoddart is taking Donna Ross' place as Gallery Co-Chair, as business conflicts make it difficult for Donna to continue. Many thanks to Donna for her assistance this year.

Jane Owen and Regina Wise stand next to Regina's current Winners' Wall exhibit at the Bert Fish Hospital Lobby gallery.

Below is a selection of paintings Joan Hartwig currently has on display at the Oak Hill library. They include: (top to bottom) "Carnival of Creation," "In the Garden," and "When Fish Fly."

Your Art In Public Places: Call for Artists

Jane Owen

First a clarification: The big switch from Plein Air group to those who show up at 10:30 Friday, April 4th, is at the UCC Community Hall on the NW corner of Faulkner and Washington.

All other venues take place in early April at times arranged with input from artists and venues. It is important that you contact us and start making arrangements soon. But never give up.

We are proud to have Babs Lupoli at the Oak Hill City Hall, Joan Hartwig in OH Library, Steve Lachlin in EW Library, Peter Cerreta and Roseanne Samuelson in NSB City Hall, the Plein Air Group in the UCC Community Hall, a group show in the Bert Fish contest, and Daniel Stone, Jim Houpt, and Gretchen Nass in the NSB Library. Your turn next.

It is time for you to cultivate and bring to maturity the raw talent you find in yourself so that it can operate in the world outside as most of you did for others; it is the time to be the adult for the child which is you.

If you do exhibit and have some .jpg files of your work, send them to us so that we can use them for the media. Contact Jane Owen (owenrix@earthlink.net, 386-428-1225) and Ruby Jones (rubygeerjones@yahoo.com, 386-427-9222).

Join us Tuesday, April 8th, 4:00 - 6:00 P.M.

The art book club continues with "Brunelleschi's Dome"

Brunelleschi's Dome is an absolutely amazing achievement and we are all learning so much. We will be watching a video on how Cathedrals were built and also the sacred geometry that was involved with their architecture. We will meet in my home at 819 Island Point Dr., NSB. on April 8 from 4 to 6 P.M. Please come even if you haven't read or finished the book; the discussion is always great.

May book:
"Toby's Room"

Starting in May we will be back in the AWI library. The book is "Toby's Room" by Pat Barker. "Unforgettable. . . . Toby's Room takes large risks... and it succeeds brilliantly."
— The New York Times Book Review

Library Continued Improvements

The library is continuing to evolve. Larger markers to identify sections of books should help you find the books you are looking for. Books are divided by subject rather than medium in alphabetical order (i.e. Abstract, Acrylic, Asian Art, Ceramics, etc.). For example, if you are interested in portraits and figure work those books have been separated out and put together no matter what the medium. All general books on acrylic, oil, watercolor are together as are all general books on painting. This helps in that you do not have to look through 200 or so books to find portrait and figure. There is also an art history section and an art museum section. New books on graphic design have been donated that are very good. I am currently working on getting those organized. As of now they are located under photography and marketing.

AWI Dues are Due May 1

Annual member dues will be due on May 1st. (Reminder notices will be mailed out to all members soon.) New members who have joined February 1, 2014 or later do not need to pay again for the 2014-15 season. Questions: Contact Kathy O'Meara, 386-871-0853.

Acclaimed artist Harold Garde was the guest speaker at the March 5th Members' Meeting. He used the Members' Show as a backdrop to offer insights on respecting your artwork enough to present it well, as well as recommendations for taking your artwork to the next level.

From the President

Joe Anglin

All,

Thanks to all for organizing, helping and participating in this years Members Show. Once again special thanks to Katty Smith, Gail Waters, Kathy O'Meara and John Strong. Great works were displayed by many with over 100 pieces. Great Event and Show!

Lagoonacy, the combined annual open house for the Marine Discovery Center and the Artists' Workshop, is happening on Saturday, April 12 this year. We need volunteers to help with children's art activities, AWI Information booth, and our art market booth. Please contact me if you would like to volunteer and I will help you get organized or direct you to the right person. It is a great event with an estimated 1500 visitors expected this year.

If you want to sell your own art work, you can get a registration form and booth number by contacting the Marine Discovery Center and ask for a form.

Look for additional Lagoonacy information forthcoming for all the activities and fun to be had by everyone. Warmer weather is finally here. Enjoy!

Artists' Workshop programs are sponsored in part by a grant from the Cultural Council of Volusia County.

From the Editor:

Hope you plan to join us for Lagoonacy on April 12th and the AWI Spring Luncheon on April 29th! Be sure to keep us informed of any member awards or special accomplishments. The cutoff date for inputs for the April newsletter will be Wednesday, April 9th.
