

Painting with oil and cold Wax Trish Vevera, Instructor

This is an introductory workshop acquainting painters with the oil and cold wax method.

Day 1: Demo , definitions, and description of techniques, methods, and supplies.

Students will practice several techniques and methods using different supplies.

Day 2: Demo and further student exploration.

Students will continue to use their favorite techniques to create small art work(s).

Cold wax and oils use a hard surface as a base. Results are a matte finish using layers of paint/wax while creating a textured and translucent surface

Supplies:

1. Instructor will supply cold wax medium.

2. Class participants will need to bring: Up to 10 pieces 12 x 12 nothing larger than 16 x 20)

Painting surfaces: Choose from these :

Arches Oil Paper, wood panels--- gessobord, wood panels, cradled birch panels

(do not bring canvas paper pads, stretch canvas or canvas covered board)

Ampersand brand is popular

Oil paint ( professional grade is best), palette( bigger is better)

Newsprint, soft rubber or foam brayers 1-2 inch, palette knives, paper towels, wooden skewers, note/drawing pad, gloves, pieces of cardboard, old credit cards, brushes, painter's tape 2-3", kitchen tools, mineral spirits or odorless turpentine to clean up ( covered tin can) apron, wax paper,

For reality based paintings bring drawings or photos.

For abstract based paintings bring your inspiration ,images, words

Artist Statement: Combining her love of outdoor "plein air painting" with the challenge of abstracting the landscape, Trish provides a contemporary rendering of a realistic environment.

Bio/Resume: Painting with watercolor/oils/acrylics/mixed media, Trish received progressive degrees in art/education from Grinnell college Iowa, The University of Iowa, and The University of Illinois. She has taught at the high school, community college, art groups, and private levels.
